

Hi, I'm Misty!

Life is hectic, and in our day to day lives, it can be hard to choose joy. That's what this blog is about, embracing our roles as moms and finding joy in the everyday moments and beyond.

Joy in the Journey averages about 25,000 views per month and has around 2,000 email subscribers. The audience consists mostly of homeschool moms who are interested in products that will enhance their lives, help them manage their time, encourage their children, and allow them more joy in their journey.
